

YEHLE DISMISSED AND M'DONOUGH IS REPRIMANDED

Police and Fire Commission
Removes North Sider on Charges Preferred
by Chief

DISAPPROVE OF KICKING PRISONER

But Commission Uses Leni-
ency Because McDonough
and Another Officer Had 48 Men to Control

Patrolman Fred Yehle was dismissed from the force by the police
and fire commission last night following charges against him preferred
by Chief of Police Webber. Patrolman Thomas McDonough was tried
on charges preferred by John Mulder, a North side merchant, and was reprimanded.

Accusations against Patrolman
Yehle grew out of the dismissal
several months ago of Patrolman
Frank Mena who purchased a stolen
overcoat from a tramp in a North side police station. Yehle saw the transaction and neglected to report
it to his superiors.

McDonough was charged with using undue severity in sending a tramp out of town. He admitted he had used some force, but the commissioners found that he and another patrolman had forty-eight men
in line and that severity was necessary in order to prevent a general outbreak. He was reprimanded for kicking the prisoner.

CARL VAN AUKEN CUT IN FALLING THROUGH WINDOW

Carl Van Auker, son of Secretary
C. S. Van Auker of the Board of Trade, was badly cut at noon today
when he tripped and fell through a basement window of the normal school. His right arm, which went through the glass, was gashed from the wrist to a point above the elbow. Dr. Sputh, physical director at the normal school, attended the boy
at once, and after first aid treatment, he was taken to the Lutheran hospital, where he is reported not in danger, although suffering from severe loss of blood. He is a pupil in the fifth grade of the normal model
school.

LONG AWAITED SPRING OFFENSIVE OF ALLIES IS NOW UNDER WAY

LONDON, April 20.—The British "spring drive" in France and Belgium is now a reality. From a point near the sea in Belgium to the vicinity of Lille the British troops are trying to force the German entrenched line back. The center of the attack is to the east of Ypres and the main strength of the British force is believed here to extend northward beyond Pillken.

It is accepted here that the present movement, referred to in the official reports as "important," is the beginning of the attempt to reclaim Belgium from the Germans. There has been much criticism of the British war office for the failure to concentrate its efforts on Belgian territory because of the large number of Belgian refugees now in England, and it is thought here that the general staff has finally decided at least to test out the strength of the German lines. Incidentally, should the movement succeed, the main German lines of communication will be threatened, which will be of great assistance to Gen. Joffre in the movement begun by the French commander-in-chief.

Here's Our Baron Dressed As Job In Newest Stunt

Count August Schaffelsky Muk-
kaddell De Castellane Von Munchausen Seymour, of Paris and La Crosse,
former champion of the "corseted
police" here, is now in sackcloth
and ashes.

Seymour requested former Mayor
Orim J. Sorenson to corset every police man in La Crosse. This plan did not succeed with the mayor and then the "count" came back with Hans Tweed, a boy from Norway, who, he said, he was taking to Tibet, China,
for a reward of $5,000. He got plenty of publicity at that time.

Armed with a document from the mayor of Milwaukee, Seymour now
has started on a world jaunt dressed in a gunny sack to carry out the provision of a "will" of his "great grandfather," the famous Baron Munchausen.

The last seen of the "count" he was heading northwest and he may come to La Crosse.

RECEIVERS NAMED FOR ROCK ISLAND

American Steel Foundries
Company Files Petition
and Road Admits
Allegations

CHICAGO, April 20.—The American Steel Foundries company of New Jersey filed a petition in the federal court today asking that a receiver be appointed for the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific. Attorneys for the railroad immediately filed an answer admitting the allegations set forth in the plaintiff's petition, that it is not
and will not be able to meet its current expenses out of its current resources.

Judge Carpenter, before whom the case came up, appointed Jacob M.
Dickinson, former secretary of war,
and H. U. Mudge, president of the road, receivers under bonds of $100,000 each. The appointments
took effect immediately.

The petition set forth that there will come due during April and on the 30th of each month a time loan, the principal of which amounts to $2-500,000; that during May, 1915,
there will come due interest payments amounting to $375,707;
equipment notes aggregating $505-
000; principal on certain bonds
amounting to $1,494,000 and guaranteed interest amounting to $125-000,000.

The petitioning company sets
forth that it has a claim of $15-818.46 against the railroad company.

"Quiet Wedding" Performed Through Nimble Fingers

W. J. Fitzpatrick, Mute Photographer, takes Mute for Wife today; Attendants Interpret Service

With Daniel Whalen and Miss Elinor Hackner translating the ceremony into the finger language of the deaf and dumb, W. J. Fitzpatrick, photographer, and Miss Alice Morrow, Three Forks, Mont., both mutes,
were united in marriage at 7 o'clock
this morning by Rev. Robert B. Condon at St. Mary's Catholic church.

Mr. Whalen and Miss Hackner were best man and bridesmaid.

The wedding today is the first
deaf and dumb marriage in La Crosse and followed a romance extending through the lives of Miss Morrow and Mr. Fitzpatrick. The couple were introduced when they were children. They were attending the School for Deaf Mutes at St. Francis, Wis., near Milwaukee. Mr. Fitzpatrick became acquainted with his bride-to-be at Milwaukee, where the groom was engaged in business prior to coming to La Crosse, eleven years ago.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick's parents reside
at Three Forks, Mont., and are both able to hear and speak. She came to La Crosse for the ceremony.

The couple will visit relatives in the east on their honeymoon and will make their home in La Crosse upon their return.

SHATTUCK RECITAL TONIGHT BIG CARD OF THE CONVENTION

Nationally Famous Pianist
Will Give Interesting
Program at Normal
School

STANDARDIZATION BIG ISSUE

Is Chief Topic Touched Upon by President Libortus Semman in His Opening Address

The biggest event of the Wisconsin
State Music Teachers' association convention here will take place this evening when Arthur Shattuck, nationally famous pianist, will appear
at the Normal school in a recital
which will be open to the public as well as to convention delegates.

A program of great interest has been outlined by Mr. Shattuck. It is given herewith:
Bach-Liszt—Fantasia and Fugue (G Minor).
d'Albert—Suite (D Minor), Alle-
mande, Gavotte, Musette.
Mendelssohn—Variations Serieu-
ses.

Chopin—Nocturne (D flat major),
Jazurka (D major), Prelude No. 23 (F major), Berceuse, Ballade (A flat).
Singing—Humoresque, Chanson
Populaire, Gohelp.

Emerson Whitborne—The Cuckoo
(Chinese), dedicated to Arthur Shattuck.
d'Albert—Scherzo (F sharp major).
Liszt—"Legende," St. Francis
di Paulus, Walking on the Waves.

Standardization of teaching methods is the big question which is to be settled by the convention. It came up in the opening address of President Libortus Semman this morning, and is scheduled for lengthy discussion at the business session of the gathering.

Dean Semman spoke in response
of an address of welcome delivered
by President Fassett A. Cotton of the Normal school. The convention was called to order for the opening session at 9:45 this morning in the assembly hall at the Normal school.

Arthur Shattuck, eminent Wisconsin
pianist, who gives recital at Normal school tonight.

and the session was occupied with President Cotton's welcome and Dean
Semman's response until about 10:30, when the convention adjourned
to the Y. W. C. A. room of the Normal, surrendering the larger hall
to the normal general assembly.

Dr. Mills Talks
In the Y. W. C. A. room the members listened to a talk by Dr. Charles H. Mills of the University of Wisconsin.

In discussing the standardization
topic in his opening address, Dean Semman declared that the re-arrangement of music teaching should be along the line of elevation. A knowledge of musical classics, he insisted, should be required of every successful teacher. He declared that the theory and history of music
should be considered as special
courses demanding separate instruction.

"Standardization by elevation, and not by elimination" was his summing
up of the proper path for the state
music teachers to follow.

Urges High School Music
In his welcoming address, President Cotton declared himself in favor of adding music to the high school curricula with as much relative importance as is given it in college courses. He urged the desirability of broad education for music teachers.

inmate of the county poor farm, who

ial was made at the farm.

SLAUGHTER SICK STOCK

result of a fresh outbreak of foot
and mouth disease in Ogle county on a farm near Polo, 200 cattle and 100

BARNES CALLS T. R. TO PROVE MALICE IN HIS CHARGES

Colonel Unexpectedly Is Called as Witness for
His Enemy in Libel
Suit

DEFY HIM TO BRING PROOF

Republican Boss's Attorneys Challenge Defense to Back Up Corruption
Charge

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 20.—Col.
Roosevelt this afternoon took the witness stand as a witness for Mr.
Barnes. He was unexpectedly called by Barnes' lawyers to prove that he had malice against Barnes in making the alleged libel.

Roosevelt admitted his issuance of the statement objected to, but further attempt to prove "malice" by Roosevelt himself was not attempted.

Roosevelt then began testimony in his own defense. After preliminary questions Roosevelt told of forming the Rough Riders. He spoke in his usual loud, clear voice, biting off
his words and showing his teeth in careful enunciation. He told of the mobilization of Rough Riders at San Antonio and their trip to Cuba.

Defy T. R. to Bring Proof
"Prove your charges," was the gag of battle thrown down today by William Barnes, to former President
Roosevelt, "justification" in Barnes' $50,000 libel suit versus the former president. Barnes' evidence was submitted and the plaintiff's case rested
before the luncheon recess was taken. Roosevelt's side admitted all facts of publication of the alleged libel.

Hot shot was poured into both sides as the trial got under actual headway, with opening statements to the jury from both sides. The attorneys in their alternate criticism
of the days of exhortation and political expose promised with submission of evidence. Most of the morning was occupied by the counsels' opening statements.

Barnes' lawyer today told the jury
that the case gave opportunity to Roosevelt to prove the charges
that Barnes is in "an alliance of crooked business and crooked politics."

"We now call upon this man of
power, this arbiter of nations, morals,
to prove this statement," was the ringing and dramatic challenge
of Barnes' counsel.

T. R. Accepts Issue
Roosevelt accepted the issue.
"This is a fight for decent government," retorted the colonel's lawyer. "The attack was not made against an individual but against
the system," he said.

Roosevelt listened intently to his critics. When his alleged libelous statement was read, Roosevelt bob-bed his head continuously in emphatic reapproval.

"A money verdict on one side or
the other, is inconsequential as compared with the vital proposition
which comes home to every man, woman and child in this state as to whether good government shall exist," said Roosevelt's attorney, John W. McGrath.

TRUCE RUMORED
IN BURLESON WAR
WITH RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A
truce in the war between Postmaster
General Burleson and the railroads
over the question of pay for carrying the mails was rumored this afternoon, following a two hour conference between the postmaster general and President Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio. Neither would make any statement.

Jitney Bus Line Is Organized To Operate In City

J. J. Bristow and Louis Giroux Will Put Five Cent Autos Into Service Between North and South
Sides This Week

The jitney bus is to enter La Crosse. Announcement was made today
by J. J. Bristow, proprietor of the Bristow garage, 520 Mill street, that he and Louis Giroux will put two passenger automobiles into service on a
"jitney" basis Thursday or Friday
of this week. They are awaiting the arrival of licenses from Madison to start their line.

The two cars will run from end
to end of the city, making a trip
from the extreme north end of the city to the southern extremity in about forty minutes. The cars will run as nearly on a stated schedule
as possible. Cars will pass Fourth and Main streets about every twenty minutes, it is expected.

The buses are two seven passenger automobiles owned by the back-ers of the line. If the venture meets with success, other cars will be added, Mr. Bristow said today.

elected city attorney this afternoon
by the new council, following the inauguration of Mayor Arthur A. Bentley. Alderman B. C. Smith was chosen president of the council.

As Mayor Bentley took his seat at the head of the council, the reserved
space in the council chamber was packed with his friends. As he rose to deliver an address, the room resounded with applause.

Floral offerings were in profusion
and were probably the most beautiful
ever presented to an incoming mayor
of La Crosse. Mayor Bentley's
friends surprised him with an enlarged picture of himself when a boy. The picture was wreathed in flowers.

Alderman C. A. Worth, last on the alphabetical roll call of the council,
settled two contests for offices this afternoon, his vote deciding ties in the election of south side city weigh-

first named office went to John Schnell, present incumbent, over
Gustave Carl, former weighmaster.
Edward Miller was elected second

"Any man placed in my position
may say he wants to be a good mayor, he wants to make good, he will do the best he can. All of these count for naught, unless there is back of these statements, a firmness
and a bigness of purpose. I cling to the great hope that is in my mind
today, that I mean to be, I want to be, and in addition to these inclinations, I pledge anew, that I will do my best to be worthy of this great

Daddy's Bedtime

The Laughing Story — Fairy and the Cross Little Maid.

"ONCE upon a time," said daddy, beginning the evening story, "there was a good little fairy and a cross little girl."

"She was such a pretty little girl and lived in a nice home and wore her hair down her back and had lovely pink ribbons tied on it. And she had nice shoes and stockings and everything. But she was so cross all the time. Nothing seemed to please her, and she went about with a cross scowl upon her forehead. Folks used to say of her that she tied her face all up in a knot."

"There wasn't any real reason for it, and she worried her parents very much. They were kind to her and did all they could to make it pleasant for her, but she was always cross and looked it and acted it."

"One afternoon this little girl was walking through the lovely green woods. The path wound in and out among the great trees, and the leaves murmured in the breeze, and the shadows were cool and nice. But you might have thought the little girl was walking through ash heaps, she looked so cross and out of tune with everything."

"My, how cross she was! And all of a sudden, when she was looking crosser than ever, she stopped short and looked up, for there had come the sound of a little piping voice, such a funny voice."

"Agnes," said the voice, "why do you scowl?"

"Agnes just stood still and stared, and, being scared, she forgot to scowl. And sitting on a twig close by her was the funniest little girl fairy you ever saw, just cunning and laughing and laughing. It sounded like the musical note of laughing water far away."

"Who are you, please?" stammered Agnes.

"They call me the laughing fairy," answered the mite, waving a little bit of a wand. "I fly about and see children who scowl and are cross, and I laugh at them, and by and by they laugh too. And you'd be surprised to find how much more fun you can get from life if you will only laugh."

"But I don't know how to laugh very well," declared Agnes.

"You will before I am through with you," replied the fairy. And she talked with Agnes and laughed until presently she had Agnes laughing too. And when Agnes felt like scowling after that she smiled instead, and she was happier, and so was everybody else."

"But kiddies must go to bed now or they will both be cross in the morning."

"Good night, daddy."

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

SORTER USELESS

BY DONALD ALLEN

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Josiah Streeter, was unusually sturdy and strong, and he was very proud of the fact.

His wife was unusually sturdy and strong, and she was proud of the fact.

Farmer Streeter could twist a barrel of cider around as easily as a city tailor could his gawse. He could shoulder a bag of flour at the gate and carry it into the house without breathing faster. He could lift a yearling calf over a rail fence, or hang up a dressed hog to cool no matter what the weight.

The wife had never been heard to say that she was tired, and had she asked the husband to move a bureau or lift the soap-kettle off the fire it would have been a matter of great surprise.

When a man hired out to Farmer Streeter he must be a strong man. If he couldn't work sixteen hours a

ELKHART LAKE WOMAN FINDS SWIFT RELIEF

Mrs. Brieske Gets Wonderful Results From Remedy

Mrs. W. C. Brieske of Elkhart Lake, Wis., after long suffering from derangements of the stomach and digestive tract, tried a dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. The results she had long hoped for came quickly—with the first dose.

In a letter she told of her experience:

"Am writing to let you know that your medicine has done me a lot of good. I have two more bottles to take. I have passed between five and six hundred accretions varying in size from a pea to a large hickory nut. I feel a whole lot better now. I am going to have my mother try your wonderful remedy."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

day and not get tired he was put down as a weakling and advised to look for a job in a clothespin factory.

It was into such an atmosphere that Ruth Streeter was born, and her coming was a disappointment to her parents and a wonder to others.

"Why, she's a dwarf!" exclaimed the father.

"Oh, she'll grow, but she'll never be strong," replied the mother.

"You can't hear her squall more'n a rod away."

"I know it."

"If she has the measles or the whooping cough, she'll be a goner, sure."

"Yes, she won't last three days."

"And what are we going to do about it?"

"Why, Josiah, we can't kill her!"

"Noap, of course not, but why couldn't she have been a bouncer instead of a little runt?"

Very early in her young life Ruth betrayed the fact that she was going to be a Streeter only in name. The father and mother had loud voices; the child spoke softly. Most children of her age would have been roaming the fields or climbing trees, but this one had more interest in pictures found in the few books in the house. The hired men would have made a pet of her, but her look of dignity kept them at a distance.

When old enough to be sent to the district school, and after she had been a pupil for a couple of weeks, the teacher called at the farmhouse.

"You must not let Ruth study her lessons at night. She is so anxious to learn that she will overtax her brain," he said.

"Don't she look frail to you?" was asked.

"She seems to be perfectly well, but she's never going to make a strong woman."

"That's what her father and me are afraid of."

"Yes—that she'll grow up to be a lady instead of knowing about housework! How much education should she have?"

"Just as much as she can get."

"But we can't have a lady in the house!"

"But Ruth is going to grow up and get married and leave you. Don't you think it will help her to get a better husband if she's a lady and well educated?"

"It may," was the dubious reply. That evening the matter was talked over between the parents, and the father said: "I can see a heap of trouble ahead for us, but it can't be handled just now. Does Ruth know that you can handle a forty-pound leather bed with one hand?"

"She has seen me do it and didn't seem to care."

"Does she know that you can bring two big hams from the smokehouse at once?"

"Yes, but she don't praise me."

"Has she been told that I can hoe more corn in a day than any man in the county?"

"Yes, I told her."

"And that I can lift a barrel of cider?"

"Yes."

"And that I won a prize pitching hay?"

"I have told her all this," sighed the wife.

"And she—she—"

"She asked why we didn't have more books in the house!"

It was queer enough that Ruth should be of the family and not of the family. There was disappointment on the side of the parents—there was a strangeness on her side.

"Ma, the Lord sent that girl to the wrong house!" said the father at last.

"I've sometimes thought so," was the reply.

"And so has she, nobody's to blame as I can see. She's here, and she's sorter useless, but we've got to bear burdens the Lord puts upon us."

At fourteen Ruth was sent to the village school. After two years she was sent away to a boarding school. Not because her parents had changed their minds about being "sorter useless," but, as Farmer Streeter had observed as he sat before the fire one evening: "Ma, I'm not complainin' about Ruth any more."

"No, you ain't, pa."

"I said once that the Lord brought her here."

"Yes."

"Well, I'm leavin' it to Him to bring it around as He thinks best. I wish she had taken to sewin', patchin', makin' bread and cuttin' carpet rags, but as she didn't, mebbe she was sorter told to go the other way. How's her eddication comin' on?"

"I ain't asked her many questions."

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

PEACE MEET LOOMS UP AS LARGE AFFAIR

International Peace Conference Most Important of Unofficial Efforts for Peace

JANE ADDAMS ON COMMITTEE

Miss Addams and Miss Andrews to Serve on the Body Representing the Nations

AMSTERDAM, Holland, April 19.—The Woman's International Peace conference which assembled at The Hague on April 28, loomed up today as one of the most important unofficial efforts on behalf of peace suggested. The opinion was expressed in official circles that the significance of the gathering apparently had been overlooked up to the present time.

Although the American delegates have not arrived they will prove a potent factor. It was announced today that arrangements have been perfected for Jane Addams of Chicago to preside over the conference. A committee of two women representing each nation participating has been named to make all arrangements. On this committee Jane Addams and Miss Andrews will serve on arrival. On the committee will be represented, when it is complete, England, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Holland, Italy and the United States. So far all French women's organizations have refused to be represented officially, although some of them are to be present unofficially.

It was stated today that telegrams from Russia, Bulgaria and Croatia all approve the idea of the congress.

She Has Enough.
As Mrs. May of Birchdale Corner was leaving the exhibition hall of the county fair a man stepped out of a booth and accosted her.

"Won't you enter," said he, "and see the startling spensthariscopic demonstrations of radium?"

"Mrs. May shook her head—with a smile, however, for she is courteous and not scientific."

"I'm obliged to you," she said, "but my bag is chock full of samples now."

year. You have a contempt for the man who can't lift a barrel of cider, and yet he may make more money in a week than you have in a year. Dr. Grey cannot lift a hundred pounds, but when your hired man broke his leg the doctor's bill was $40.

Neither father nor mother had word to say and the girl continued. "You have not been disappointed in me because I am not a big, strong, lucky girl and don't take to housework. It took me less than a fortnight to make some sketches over at Brownville that I sold for one hundred dollars."

"Gosh!" exclaimed the father. "There isn't a lawyer in the state that can hold a plow for a hundred feet, and yet the poorest one of them makes ten times the money you do. You have thought me helpless and useless. You have thought all people so not made of iron."

"Yes," admitted the father, "some useless, and now I can realize that me and your ma have been some fools all the time."

When a fine landscape is signed "Durand" it isn't always the work of Mr. Charles Durand. It may be the creation of his wife, Mrs. Durand, formerly Ruth Streeter.

And father and mother don't have to work any more.

THE TRIBUNE AND THE POLICE

Many good citizens profess astonishment that the TRIBUNE should give space to matter concerning the police fight inaugurated by Joe Hirt. Hirt, they say, is actuated by nothing loftier than a desire for vengeance.

We know nothing of Hirt. We care less. However, in fairness to him it must be observed that if there is anything criminal in his record our alert police have been unable to detect it, else would he be under restraint.

The TRIBUNE is concerned only with the truth or falsity of Hirt's charges. On this score, it had the assurance of good citizens, men whose word would not be questioned in any court, that the charges made by Hirt, or similar facts, were true of their own knowledge. It was upon this information that we determined to give publicity to the charges. But our respectable informants, upon divulging the facts, insisted that their names be not published or given to the authorities. It is true that good citizens shrink their duty and shrink from publicity in affairs of this kind.

And because that is true, the facts about the under-world doings of policemen can be bared only when one who has known the dark side of life falls out with them. It took a Charley White to expose Lorimer.

Get the facts right. The TRIBUNE is not fighting Joe Hirt's battles. It is in no sense concerned with him. It merely insists that a higher standard of manhood be demanded of policemen. We regret that we are not joined in that demand by clean officers like Horshak, McDonough, Wolf, Britton, Deenen, Dugan and others whom one could mention. Why do they not insist upon the standards to which they measure up?

Policemen are not merely guardians of property. They have a duty to society as protectors of the young and the unsophisticated. Every man who has a little daughter has a right to expect the hand of the policeman to intervene between her and the snares that beset the city. And what stewardship can any father expect from an officer who himself consorts with lewd women.

That is our point. We emphatically dissent from the prevailing official opinion that any man who can not be sent to the penitentiary is fit for the police force.

HAMBRECHT'S OPPORTUNITY

An interesting figure in the 1914-15 legislature is George P. Hambrecht, assemblyman from Grand Rapids.

Hambrecht, categorically as "stallwart," is pursuing an independent course that has entrenched him with considerable strength. In fact, he is the center of a group which seems to hold the balance of power.

This becomes significant when it is observed that Assemblyman Hambrecht, in whom the ultra-conservatives placed great reliance, has developed a disposition to think for himself, a crime against the pre-digested legislative fodder being handed into the enactment mill by the administration leaders. More, not only Hambrecht thinks for himself, but he thinks clearly, and he expounds with convincing force.

In many things Mr. Hambrecht is not abreast of the modern thought that gives progressivism its name, but upon many issues he bids fair to become a leader, and in any event he is fair and reasonable.

In his declaration to be shackled to the administration machine, Hambrecht has placed himself in a position to exert a powerful influence for good at a time when men lacking his wide information are attempting the reorganization of government agencies and the reshaping of government policies the basic philosophy of which they do not and cannot comprehend.

"Mayor's job in Cripple Creek nets 25 cents monthly," says a headline, but it is our guess Mayor Donn M. Roberts of Terre Haute would be willing to exchange berths with him and pay him a bonus.

Torpedoing of vessels owned in Holland has got Germany "in Dutch" if newspaper reports are to be believed.

He came home and found his young wife dissolved in tears.

"What do you think has happened?" she cried. "I left the cage open and our canary has flown away."
He undertook to give what consolation he might, and took the poor, distressed lady in his arms. As she nestled against his shoulder a new access of sobs convulsed her.

"Ah, George," she murmured in a choking voice, "now I've only you left."

Her Argument Good
The judge had assumed his severest look, and was determined to speak in his harshest voice. The conversation follows:
Magistrate—It appears to be your record, Mary Moselle, that you have been thirty-five times previously convicted of drunkenness.
The Prisoner (sarcastically)—No woman is perfect.

REAL GREATNESS.
The greatest man is he who chooses the right with invincible resolution, who resists the sorest temptations from within and without, who is calmest in storms, most fearless under menace and frowns and whose reliance on truth, on virtue, on God, is most unflinching.—William Ellery Channing.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Carnations
Carnations and my first love! And he was seventeen.
And I was only twelve years a stately gulf between!
I bought them on the morning the school dance was to be.
To pin among my ribbons in hopes that he might see;
And all the girls stood breathless to watch as he went through
With curly crest and grand air that swept the heart from you!
And why he paused at my side is more than I can know—
The shyest of the small girls that all adored him so.
I said it with my prayer times—I walked with head held high—"Carnations are your flower!" he said as he strode by.

Carnations and my first love! The years are gone a score,
And I recall his first name, and scarce an eyelash more;
And those were all the love words that either of us said—
Perhaps he may be dead—
And yet . . . to small carnations their spicy, heavy sweet Perfuming all some sick room, or
Then still the school lights flicker and still the lancers play.
And still the girls hold breathless the while he goes his way:
And still my child-heart quivers in that first ecstasy—
"Carnations are your flower!" my first love said to me!

—Margaret Widdemer In Everybody's Magazine.

It Glanced Off
Mrs. Wickleigh looked over the room which the maid had pronounced finished. "Mary Ann," she said, "if you will take a sweeping glance around this room, I think you will find that you have given it a very glancing sweep."

Didn't Want a Horse
She—Here's a story of a man out west who traded his wife off for a horse. You wouldn't trade me for a horse, would you, darling?
He—Of course not. But I'd hate to have any one tempt me with a good motor car.

Locating the Trouble
"Mamma," complained little Elsie, "I don't feel well."
"That's too bad, dear," said Mother sympathetically. "Where do you feel worst?"
"In school, Mamma."

It Seemed That Way
The farmer, wearing a long face, entered the country drug store. "I've got something wrong with my stomach," he announced.

Richard Farquhar still stood in the open doorway. He wore the white drill uniform of the hospital, and his shoulder was roughly bandaged; but he held himself erect, his head thrown back in an attitude of blind persistent resistance. The two men looked at him in fascinated silence. His face was whiter than his clothes; the blue eyes under the straight black brows were lit with a flaring brilliancy which both men knew well enough. They waited. At last he closed the door and came quietly across the room to the empty bed. He seemed to notice neither the two watchers nor the poor wretch gibbering and grinning at the bar of sunlight which fell across his face. He dropped without a sound, and sat there with his chin between his clenched fists and stared blankly in front of him. His features were expressionless. They might have been cut out of marble by a sculptor who had tried to betray a state where all feeling, all emotion had been stamped out.

The Alsatian rose softly to his feet. From the "paquetage" arranged on the shelf over his bed he took down something and considered it for a moment, thoughtfully and regretfully. Then he came back and touched Farquhar on the arm.
"See here, comrade," he said gently. There was no answer, no movement. No. 4095 had neither heard nor seen. The legionary sat down beside him and held out his hand. "See here! I've got something for you."

"For me?" Richard Farquhar asked thickly. "For me?"
"Yes, for you, my friend. A woman, a lady—think of it! Sacred name, you have luck in your misfortune. A ten-franc piece—and a rose. Bah, the rose is faded. I had to crush it into the breast of my tunic lest I should be hauled over the coals for you. But the ten francs! Ah, it was a temptation, I can tell you; but I am an honest comrade, and here you are. Take it and get yourself a liter of the best and drink to her, my son!"

Richard Farquhar took the crumpled rose from the man's hand.
"You can keep the money," he said hoarsely. "I don't want that—and it was decent of you. Go, for God's sake—leave me alone." He dropped back on the bed with his hands crushed to his face and lay still. The Alsatian crept softly to his own place. As he passed the Spaniard he nodded.
"The man!"
"Not yet—we must wait—we must wait."

ITCHING NEARLY DROVE A WHOLE FAMILY CRAZY

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 24, 1914:—"My husband had a rash all over his body, and soon the WHOLE FAMILY was in the same condition. It looked scaly and raised up on the arms and body in big bumps. This trouble burned and itched so that it would nearly drive one crazy. It was always worse at night, so we could not sleep. We all had this trouble for about two or three years, and during that time tried many remedies and prescriptions with no results. We tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and it RELIEVED AT ONCE, and before the third jar of ointment had been used, we were all completely cured. It has been four months since we were cured, and there are no traces of the trouble."—(Signed) Mrs. S. A. Clarkson, 1529 Lawn Ave.

women from behind mysterious veils, and Europeans all with the same feminine interest in what is strong. For Colonel Destinn sat his horse with grace and ease, and the slight erect figure carried the years lightly. How many the years were no one knew.
Thus he rode slowly through the pleasant shaded avenues, skirting the nigger quarter, till he reached the plateau. There he drew rein, his keen eyes sweeping the low girle of olive trees and clustering native hovels to the far side, where the mosque rose up in stately purity against the turquoise sky. Through the graceful archway a double line of Arabs drifted backward and forward in a soft-flowing, unbroken stream of worship, and suddenly Colonel Destinn set spurs and galloped over the hard clay, scattering the stragglers to right and left.
"Madame Arnaud!"
She turned with a little start of surprise, and freeing herself from the cumbersome red slippers which encased her infidel feet, she came to meet him, her hand outstretched in gracious welcome.
"Why, Colonel Destinn! You!"
"There's no one here for whom it is necessary to play comedy," he answered with brutal directness. "You had my note?"
"Yes," she crimsoned and faltered, and he swung himself to the ground, keeping the bride over his wrist.
"We must get away from the crowd," he said in the same curt, imperative tone. "It is fairly quiet behind the mosque. Take my arm. The rough ground is excuse enough." "If any one saw us they would think—"
"Nothing that is not true, Madame."
She hesitated, half resentful, half afraid.
"I am beginning to ask myself what is the truth, Colonel."
"That is what I have come to tell you."
They walked on. Overhead, from the high towers of the mosque, an Arab chant drifted down to them through the quiet air—
"I extol the greatness of the Lord, of God the Most High."
They were quite alone now. On their right the white walls sheltered them; to the left the open, sun-scorched plateau. Colonel Destinn stood still and faced his companion.
"Well," he said, "have you nothing to say to me?"
"I?" She lifted her lustrous brown eyes to his in simple inquiry. "What should I have to say?"
"Your husband is safe."
"Oh, Desire! Yes, I had forgotten about it almost. It was an accident. He thought I was about to be attacked. He is so nervous and excitable, and the night was dark. He explained it all—"

"Yes, Captain Arnaud explained everything." There was a block of stone beside him and he set his foot upon it, leaning forward so that their faces were on a level. "Madame Arnaud! Do you really think I believe you or in you? My child, if your husband had acted as you say, he would have been cashiered for an intoxicated incapacity; but he gave me his explanation. It was an explanation which men among themselves—some men—understand and accept—madness on account of a woman. I let your husband go free. Do you thank me?" She made no answer. The graceful knowledge of her power was gone. Her eyes hung on his with the blankness of a will in abeyance. "You do not thank me," he went on deliberately. "You would like to. You would like to play the role of the faithful wronged wife. But I am the one person before whom you can not act, either to yourself or to others. I have seen through you, and your little shallow soul knows it. All artifice between us is useless. Do not move—stay there!" He caught her hands and held them in a grip of iron.
She tried to wrench her hands free, the while her eyes remained in helpless attendance on his.
"Colonel Destinn—you are insulting—you have no right—"
"I am not insulting. And if I were you would have to listen to me. The power I have over you is yours over me. We belong together, Madame Arnaud, by virtue of our vice. We are both corrupt, worthless—you in your way, I in mine. Hear me out, please! I am a brutal man, and I am tearing down the veil with rural hands. But no matter—you will have it mended by tomorrow. For an hour I choose that you should see clearly. You have hounded two men to their ruin—in all innocence. You set yourself on a false pedestal which they could not accomplish without using your own methods. They had not your powers of assuming virtue nor my power of valuing your peculiar worth. The one man virtually committed suicide at the altar of your perfection, the other murder."

ONE CENT LETTER POSTAGE BEING AGITATED

One cent postage rate on letters is again being brought into prominence and many high officials declare that it is sure to come in the near future. All classes of business would be greatly benefited by its adoption, and estimated statistics show there would be such an increased demand for stamps that the apparent loss of revenue would be more than made up.

It is an impossibility to place an estimated value on health, it being a most priceless possession—but, perhaps you have been careless or negligent and have allowed weakness to develop until you are now in a badly rundown condition, with poor appetite, impaired digestion and constipated bowels.

In order to get back to health and strength you must first help Nature restore the Stomach, Liver and Bowels to a normal condition. This suggests the friendly aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. You will find it an excellent tonic, appetizer and strength maker and well worthy of your confidence.

It is an absolutely pure medicine, adapted to all ordinary family ailments, and your health will be greatly improved by giving it a fair trial at once. Be sure you get the genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters with our Private Stamp over the neck of Bottle.

STREET CAR MEN MOVING TRACKS

Cars to Be Running Over New Rose Street Viaduct by June First

That street cars will be running over the viaduct by June 1 was the statement today of Frank Sewolski, superintendent of the Wisconsin Railway, Light and Power company. Work on the laying of the track will be commenced before May 1.

A crew of forty men are employed at present in setting trolley poles, besides getting materials to the line of the track. Several hundred feet of rails in addition to ties and poles have already been delivered preparatory to the start of the track construction.

Approximately one mile of double tracking will be made, according to Sewolski. The entire section will be double tracked, including the viaduct, forming an endless line of track on the north side line.

Work will be begun simultaneously at the St. Cloud street and the Monitor street ends of the new section, insuring a speedy completion of the construction. More than one hundred and fifty men will be employed. Track Foreman Charles Nordengren will have charge of the construction.

The line was surveyed early this spring by City Engineer George Bradish.

RAILROADER NAMED REVENUE COLLECTOR

Seymour Simpson, until recently a passenger conductor on the Milwaukee road, and one of the oldest and best railroad men in the state, has been appointed deputy internal revenue collector for the western district of Wisconsin with offices at Madison. He succeeds E. H. Burlingame of Madison.

Simpson, who is well known among La Crosse railroad men, has spent the greater part of his lifetime in the employ of the Milwaukee road. He retired as a passenger conductor five months ago. Simpson's run had for a number of years been on trains Nos. 5 and 6.

TURK FLEET IS MAROONED WITHOUT COAL IN BLACK SEA

SALONIKA, April 20.—The Turkish fleet is marooned in the Black sea, where its coal is rapidly becoming exhausted, according to a report reaching here today. During its recent dash into the Black Sea the Russian fleet successfully mined the entrance to the Bosphorus. The fleet in returning sent the destroyers in front. Two of them struck mines and were sunk. The fleet was without mine sweepers and has been unable to clear away the mines, with the result that its coal supply is near exhaustion.

DENTAL BOARD'S BILL IS FOUGHT

Advertising Dentists Object to Having Non-advertising Dentists Appointed as Their Judges in Ethics

Dentists who advertise their business and newspapers throughout the state are opposing a bill proposed by the state board of dental examiners which would affect the "advertising dentist."

According to the published code of ethics of the Wisconsin Dental society, of which all of the present members of the board are members, it is unprofessional for dentists to advertise. Dentists who advertise in this state have formed the Modern Dental Ethical Society of Wisconsin, which makes no prohibition against members advertising.

The proposed bill before the legislature gives the dental board the right to revoke the license of any dentist who in their opinion is committing unprofessional conduct because he is advertising. A proposed amendment to the bill changes the offense to "untruthful" or "impossible" statements committed in advertising. This is also being fought by the advertising dentists.

Representatives of newspapers at a hearing at Madison last week maintained that the bill aimed at putting the "advertising dentist" out of business.

FLOUR RETAILING FOR SIX CENTS IN CITY TODAY

Altitude Record Reached a Few Days Ago Smashed Again as Wheat Market Rockets

Flour today is retailing in La Crosse grocery stores for six cents per pound, a price never heard of since La Crosse was a trading post on the "frontier" of the west.

The steady rise of the wheat market has caused flour in La Crosse to increase in price in twenty cent jumps.

Listman Mill company was today forced to quote flour at $8.30 per barrel. Second grade or "straight" flour is quoted at $8.10. The price of feed remains the same.

Several weeks ago when flour reached $7.70 per barrel, the record here was established. Then prices soared to $7.90, and then to $8.10. Mill men will make no predictions as to a further rise. Some of them admit they believe the "limit" has been reached, while others are of the opinion that flour prices may go still higher.

The City Grocery today quoted retail prices of the best flour at $2.20 for quarter barrel sacks, containing 49 pounds; $1.10 for 24½ pound sacks, and thirty cents for 5 pound sacks, making the price six cents per pound.

CHANGES ARE MADE IN TEACHING STAFF AT HIGH SCHOOL

New Librarian Is Selected;
Latin Instructor Chosen
to Succeed Miss Mirah
Congdon

Miss Gertrude Dickens will be librarian at the high school next year. She has had wide training in the normal school here under Miss Wing. During the last year she has taught in St. Paul high schools.

Miss Hester Jacobs has been named as the successor of Miss Mirah Congdon as head of the Latin department of the high school. The resignation of Miss Congdon was accepted by the board at the last meeting. Miss Jacobs has been a member of the high school faculty for two years and is popular among the student body.

Mrs. Elizabeth Irish, teacher of physiology and physical geography at the high school, has been unable to teach her classes for the last week due to illness. During her absence, Miss Margery Taylor, the librarian, has been conducting her classes while Miss Katherine Erickson has had charge of the library.

Senior Play on June 4
If present plans mature the senior class play will be held at the La Crosse theater on the evening of June 4. The play selected this year is an up to date play of high character. "Up to the Minute Peggy" is the name of the drama. A tryout for the cast will be held sometime during the week and work will begin on the play immediately. Miss Geneva Constance will coach the production.

School Orators Named
The school will be represented Friday evening in the girl's declamatory contest at Viroqua by Nora Larson and Dora Hirschheimer. These two girls under the coaching of Miss Constance will defend the honor of La Crosse on the declamatory side while William Walker, George MacLachlan and Alex Feinberg go to Sparta to the Boys' Oratorical contest.

In both events La Crosse stands a good show to draw places as the teams are exceptionally well coached and competent.

TRUE COURAGE.

True courage has so little to do with anger that there always lies the strongest suspicion against it where this passion is highest. True courage is cool and calm. The bravest of men have the least bullying insolence and in the very time of danger are found the most serene, pleasant and free. Rage, we know, can make a coward forget himself and fight. But what is done in fury or anger can never be placed to the account of courage.—Shaftesbury.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and sluggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach aches, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

"Whys" of Moves in European War

BY J. W. T. MASON

NEW YORK, April 20.—The attempt of a Turkish torpedo boat to sink a British transport off Chios has brought forth the first official announcement that British troops are being sent to the Levant for operations against Turkey. There have been rumors to this effect and counter rumors but the only definitely known fact has been that the French embarked troops for Turkey a month ago, and then diverted them to Egypt.

This change of plans by the French authorities was not due to any necessity for reinforcing the British army in Egypt. A convenient Paris report, to rest the troops pending the commencement of a land campaign against Turkey. Why so long an interval has occurred between the arrival of the French and of the English troops in the near east is one of the mysteries of the war. It is apparent that plans were changed after the French contingent had embarked for Turkey, but the reason for this is a secret of the war office, and admirals at Paris and London.

Probably the non-success of the naval attack on the Dardanelles forced the conclusion that the Turks when directed by the Germans, were far more formidable adversaries than the allies at first were willing to admit. Then it was decided that land operations would fail unless a larger army than contemplated by the original plans was sent to the Levant. This would explain the holding of the French troops in Egypt, but not the British delay in sending forth their own transports.

After the first shock of surprise caused by the resisting power of the Dardanelles defenses, and the conclusion that any land force employed against the Turks would have to be very strong, it is probable that indecision arose concerning the advisability of sending a large army to the near east. These troops would have to be withdrawn from the present or prospective armies in France and Belgium and it doubtless was questioned by the French and British authorities whether military exigencies would permit a weakening of the western battle front. Hence probably arose the delay which has been so puzzling a feature of the Turkish operations. Now that a British transport is positively known to be in Levantine waters, it would seem to be a safe conclusion that the British government has decided in favor of a serious land campaign against the Turks.

Certainly there is more probability that important gains will result from Turkish operations than from such engagements as those at Neuve Chapelle and between the Meuse and Moele. Doubtless the disappointing outcome of all the western offensive since the battle of Flanders has had a determining influence upon the apparent decision to transport a large army to Turkey. The time now must be drawing near when the opening of the near eastern land campaign will take precedence in interest over the fighting at the battle fronts.

GIRLS! GIRLS! YOU MUST TRY THIS! DOUBLES BEAUTY OF YOUR HAIR.

For 25 cents you can make your hair lustrous, fluffy, and abundant.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

James Madison—"Father of the Constitution"

THE FOURTH PRESIDENT of the United States considered it a greater honor to be declared the Father of the Constitution than to have been elected twice to the highest office in the gift of his countrymen. No more ardent, intelligent, far-sighted and constant student of governmental problems ever lived than Madison. They were his life-long passion. He it was who labored with all his gigantic ability and indomitable will to have deeply imbedded in our National Law those vital principles which forever guarantee to all Americans Religious, Commercial and Personal Liberty. In private life he was genial and social—yet temperate. Many a foaming glass of good barley-malt beer he drank with his bosom friend Thomas Jefferson—"Father of the Declaration of Independence." Madison died at 85; and Jefferson at 83; both were unalterably opposed to tyrannous Prohibition Laws, and advocated legislation which encouraged the brewing industry. Upon the tenets of the Constitution of the U.S.A. (to which Madison devoted the best of his genius) Anheuser-Busch 58 years ago founded their great institution. To-day 7500 people are daily required to produce and market their honest brews. Their chief brand Budweiser is sold throughout the civilized world—the drink of your forefathers—the drink of the noblest men who ever lived—the drink of the great triumphant nations. Budweiser sales exceed any other beer by millions of bottles.

SEASON FIGURES FOR ALLEY LEAGUE ISSUED BY ULRICH

Gunds Lead the League with the Nelsons a Close Second; Cubs in Third Place

RECORDS GO TO THE NELSONS

Paulson Holds Individual Records Besides Topping List of Individual Averages

What was, without doubt, the most successful bowling program ever conducted in La Crosse has come to a close with the announcement of official averages and other statistics by A. S. Ulrich, secretary of the Ten Pin League of La Crosse.

The Gunds, with fifty games won and thirteen lost, lead the league in the final reckoning. The Nelsons are second in line with forty-one games won and sixteen lost, or six games behind the leaders. The Cubs are third.

Nelsons Set Records

Although finishing second in the league, the Nelsons set the pace in the matter of records, having made 2,810 in a three game match and 1,009 in a single game. Oscar Paulson shares alone in the calcium in the individual column, having scores of 641 and 255 in the three games and one game. He also leads the league in individual averages, having a season average score of 185 in 61 games.

Paulson in Lead

A. S. Ulrich, between whom and Paulson the leadership of the column lay during the entire season, finished with an average of 184 for 60 games. John Williams of the Eagles No. 1 brought up in third place with 182 in 48 games. A. W. Mekvold of the Cubs made the same average in 39 games.

A seeming paradox in the statistics is the circumstance in which the La Crosse club, eighth in the percentage column, is fifth in the team averages for three games. The Eagles No. 2, sixth in the percentage column, stand eighth in the three games average.

The figures:

Standing of Clubs
	Won	Lost	Aver.
Gunds	50	13	.794
Nelsons	41	16	.719
Cubs	39	23	.549

A MAN will go a long way to get the Real Tobacco Chew. Once he learns its satisfying quality he just can't be contented with the old kind.

The longer he knows it the better he likes it and the more he talks about it to his friends.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

That's why of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. A little of the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD BY HAL SHERIDAN (Written for the United Press.)

AL Demaree, castoff Giant, got a big bunch of sweet r-revenge yesterday.

He made the Giants look foolish, scoring a four-hit shutout for the Phillies.

Let us introduce Mr. B. Boland, rookie extraordinary. Chucking for the Tigers against the Sox, he allowed 'em but three hits and one run.

The hurriers for the Yanks and Athletics got down to early spring form, one side allowing fourteen hits, the other fifteen. Strunk performed with much éclat, getting a triple, double and two singles.

Jack Lapp didn't look much like the Jack of old. The Yanks swiped four bases on him without a whole lot of effort.

This seems to be the rookies' season. Grover Loudermilk, an A. A. graduate, held them to one blow and won his game easily.

By the way, have you noticed how Pat Moran's phatigued Phils are breezing along? Four straight games have they won now.

Culture Looks Beyond.
Culture looks beyond machinery, culture hates hatred; culture has one great passion—the passion for sweetness and light. It has one even yet greater, the passion for making them all prevail. It is not satisfied till we all come to a perfect man; it knows that the sweetness and light of the few must be imperfect until the raw and unkindly masses of humanity are touched with sweetness and light.—Matthew Arnold.

A ROOF OVER RIVER IS NOT IN ACCORD WITH CITY'S PLANS

Aldermen Spend an Hour Before Council Adjourns to Protest Against Unknown Miscreants

Because there was a man who placed a tin roof across the La Crosse river in the vicinity of the Third street bridge and other refuse has been dumped into the river at times, just at the point where the city's watermain connecting with North La Crosse are submerged, the old city council was compelled to adjourn in an hour of jangling before adjournment this morning. Then they re-referred the whole matter to the new council.

Complaints against dumping into the La Crosse river have been brought before the aldermen charging the La Crosse Pearl Button works with obstructing the passage of the stream by cutting down trees into it and filling it with refuse from button shells. The climax came when someone hauled an abandoned tin roof and dumped this into the river.

An ordinance establishing water lines, creating permanent markers of the main channel in future and prohibiting dumping, which was brought today, will be considered by the new council.

New Council Gets Work.
The old council before going out of office passed all of its projected street openings, paid the Allis Chalmers Co., the last bill for the new pumps at the water station and settled up minor bills. The city is practically free from other than bonded debts.

To the incoming judiciary committee was referred a proposal to pay Thomas E. Wooley $905.63 in full settlement of his claim against the city, recently argued in circuit court. This was the amount recommended for settlement by Judge Fowler who sat in the case as referee between the city and contractor.

The city's debt of $6,000 to the La Crosse Bridge company for construction of a bridge on the La Crosse highway, which has been kicked along for five years and still is in dispute, was referred to the new council after retiring Alderman William Collins made two addresses urging that the account be either settled or disallowed. Aldermen have argued for years that the city has no legal right to construct public works in another state.

BLINDING GLARE OF AUTO LAMPS CAUSES BAD WRECK

Gustave Weise of Vernon County with Party of Ladies Have Narrow Escape

Gustave Weise, town of Bergen, Vernon county carpenter, turned his automobile out of a narrow space in the Mormon Coulee road last night to allow another car traveling in the opposite direction to pass.

His car today is a total wreck and he sustained minor injuries from being buried under the machine. Weise was driving at moderate speed from La Crosse to his home. As he neared a narrow place, near the saloon of William F. Gausch, the blinding headlights of another machine appeared suddenly from a curve ahead. Weise did not know the road was narrow and turned off abruptly. The automobile, containing two women, besides Mr. Weise, ran down an embankment and his car was turned completely over. The two women jumped and were not injured.

Although the driver of the other car stopped and gave Weise assistance, they drove away before their identity could be learned.

CHIEF KAMMERER OF WINONA OUT

New Mayor Names Police Sergeant George Huck to Succeed Man in Office Twenty-five Years

WINONA, Minn., April 20.—Chief George Kammerer, twenty-five years a police official on the Winona force, is out of the department today following the appointment of George Huck, police sergeant, to the head of the department by Mayor W. A. Hodgins, who took office last night.

The new chief was appointed by the mayor in accordance with the old law which is to be superseded shortly by a statute applying civil service regulations to police departments. The department will go under a fire and police commission when the law takes effect, but the commissioners have not yet been named. It is understood that the board, when appointed by the mayor, will confirm his choice of Huck.

Historic Black Forest.
The Black forest has a charm that can be found in no other part of the world. The hills and valleys abound in pine woods of so dark a green as to be almost black. And from these the forest takes its name. And these trees do give it such a black appearance that it looks forbidding and makes a chill go down one's back. Its hills are as dark as its history.

WASHINGTON CERTAIN VILLA IS ELIMINATED AS MEXICAN POWER

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Little doubt existed in Washington today that Francisco Villa's "cause" in Mexico has collapsed. Reports of a crushing third defeat at Celaya; other reports of a split between Villa and Felipe Angeles, and persistent rumors of Villa's precipitate flight toward the border, are not even meeting with denials from the Villa agency here.

Administration officials feel no elation over Villa's apparent elimination as a Mexican factor. His downfall will mark Angeles' rise, they say, and persistent rumors of Obregon's intention of pulling away from Carranza further complicate the situation.

SHEBOYGAN MAN HELD FOR ROBBING UNCLE SAM'S MAIL

Former Assistant Postmaster Arrested on Indictment of Federal Grand Jury

MILWAUKEE, April 20.—Fred W. Graff, former assistant postmaster at Sheboygan, was arrested here today on a charge of embezzling $800 in postal funds. He was arraigned before Judge Geiger immediately. He pleaded not guilty and his bonds were fixed at $2,000.

Graff was connected with the Sheboygan postoffice for 18 years. He was promoted from one clerkship to another and finally became assistant postmaster. Alleged irregularities were discovered in his accounts and charges were filed against him by Inspector Bates of Waukesha, in March, 1914. Graff was given the opportunity for a hearing under the civil service rules, but ignored it and was relieved July 7.

Coming to Milwaukee, Graff obtained employment in a garage as a bookkeeper. At the last session of the federal grand jury indictments on fifteen counts were returned against him.

SHOOTS SELF ON SWEETHEART'S STEP

LONG BEACH, Cal., April 20.—John B. Hope, Jr., son of a Beverly, Mass., attorney, and a Princeton graduate, shot himself to death on the doorstep of Mrs. Sara Farrar's residence here today. Hope left a love note for Mrs. Farrar, intimating that he was despondent over debts and lack of money.

Naval Observation Mines. The "observation mine" is worked from a station on shore. The firing pins are fixed in a buoy which floats a few feet beneath the surface of the water and above the explosive reservoir. An electric cable runs from the anchor beneath the bottom to the mine station. When a pin is driven into the top buoy it causes a bell to ring or a light to flash in the shore station, warning the observer on duty that a vessel is passing over a mine. The observer thereupon closes the firing circuit, and the mine explodes.

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks. NEW YORK, April 20.—Several leading issues showed slight losses in sales at the opening of the stock market today. Four thousand shares of Rock Island sold at 31 and 32, being off two and three points from yesterday's close. American Canning was off 1/4 at 35 1/2. United States Steel sold at 57 1/2, a gain of 1/2 over yesterday's closing figures.

11 a. m.—Trading continued active during the first hour. Prices generally held up well, only a few of the issues showing losses. Amalgamated Copper was strong, reaching 75 1/2, compared to 74 1/2 on yesterday's closing figures.

Rock Island continued to sell down, reaching 29 1/2 at 11 o'clock. This was 6 1/2 below yesterday's last figure.

Strong resistance was shown by the stock market to the news of an application for a receiver for the Rock Island. Strength in the stock of all western roads continued also.

2 p. m.—The Rock Island receivership had less effect on the market than was expected, chiefly because news of the suit had been discounted in advance.

The market was strong and active at the close.

New York Money. NEW YORK, April 20.—Money on call, 2 per cent; time money, 3 1/2 per cent for six months; prime mercantile, 3 1/2 to 4 per cent.

ican public know him better for what he does. He decided that the most effective way to form this acquaintance is through the medium of moving pictures. He recognized, at the same time, that Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival is the one attraction
before the public exceptionally well
qualified to introduce our "New Navy" to the public because this entertainment commands the patronage of the most cultured, discriminating and thoughtful audiences
throughout the nation. For this reason he extended exceptional facilities and privileges to Howe's staff
photographers during the two years
they were engaged in filming every phase of naval life which will be reproduced at the La Crosse Theater
on Friday and Saturday with a Saturday matinee. That this honor was well bestowed, as it was well merited, is convincingly shown by the quality, human interest and variety of the scenes. Nothing escaped the vigilance of the ever alert photographers with their cameras. For two years they made their home with the bluejackets aboard ship, messes
with the officers, mingled with the gun crew, absorbed the atmosphere
that pervades every nook and corner
of our great floating fortresses which encase a thousand souls within walls
of steel.

The steer was eating hay in the Sunday and your throat is parched,

walk into any one of Chicago's 7,152

Then walk out. You don't even have to say thanks.Thus ruled Judge Hemmell in the South Chicago branch of the munic-

a charge of disorderly conduct against Joseph Delich and Joseph Eich. Joseph Wasek, saloonkeeper, appeared against them. He said they ordered drinks, drank them and walked out."When'd this happen?" queried
the court.
"Sunday afternoon."
"You mean to say you were open Sunday in violation of the law?"
"Sure," said Wasek. "We all do it."

Famous Oratorio
Last Night

(BY ISADOR TIPPMMANN)

"The Messiah," Haendel's famous
oratorio, was sung by the Normal Choral society at Normal hall last evening under the direction of Mr.
Homer E. Cotton. To attempt to present a musical masterpiece of such magnitude with the vocal and instrumental material available in La Crosse, deserves to be called an act of prodigious bravery at least,
for the ground for activities in the highest fields of musical endeavor is still ill prepared here. That in spite of these existing conditions the music was received by the audience with most cordial approval, is greatly to the credit of Mr. Cotton and all the participants in the work.The normal chorus, supplemented by some of our professional singers, accomplished its difficult task
admirably. The voices sounded fresh,
the attacks were generally precise
and the intonation quite satisfactory.
The orchestra accompanied the chorus work with taste and discretion,
particularly in the string section,
while in the brass and wood wind
sections there was an overflow of discretion. The soloists, Miss Anna Hickisch, soprano; Miss Alma Beck,
contralto; Mr. B. M. Forster, tenor,
and Mr. Marion Green, baritone, distinguished themselves in their most-
